Road Rage And Aggressive Driving

A View From The Driver's Seat

„Road rage“ is deliberate, violent behaviour by a driver in response to a real or imagined traffic grievance. Drivers may use their vehicles as weapons, or even get out of their cars to accost or attack another driver. Road rage occurs when something “snaps” in a driver who might usually drive carefully and obey all traffic laws. Incidents caused by road rage can and do result in physical assault, damage to or destruction of personal and public property. Similar to the road rage driver is the “aggressive” driver. An aggressive driver may run red lights, tailgate, weave in and out of traffic and ignore traffic laws as their normal pattern of driving. An aggressive driver may trigger road rage in another driver or may develop road rage themselves.

This timely program looks at road rage and aggressive driving from the driver's perspective. Viewers learn what to do if they are the object of an enraged driver and how to avoid becoming enraged themselves. Unintentional actions such as driving too slowly, blocking the passing lane, cutting off another driver, or tailgating, can all lead to road rage.

Knowing what to do if confronted by a person who is enraged can mean the difference between life and death.

School Bus Driving: Controlling Skids

This program teaches school bus drivers the information needed to make skid control techniques second nature.

Detailed demonstrations explain why skidding occurs. Weather conditions, tire pressure, wet road surfaces, and faulty brakes can all play a part, but the biggest factor is a change of speed or direction which is too abrupt for road conditions.

The best way to deal with skids is to prevent them from happening. In sudden emergencies “squeeze braking” and a proper balance between steering, braking and acceleration are the most effective ways to maintain vehicle control and prevent wheel lock up. Sometimes skidding is unavoidable, and then drivers must know what to do. Techniques for handling front and rear wheel skids, all wheel skids, power skids, spinouts and hydroplaning are carefully demonstrated.

The programme emphasizes that, above all, school bus drivers must remain calm and alert. Skids and other emergencies are facts of driving. The ability to maintain vehicle control on such occasions is vital to keep passengers safe.
